NEW ENSIGN OF THE INDIAN NAVY UNVEILED

INS Vikrant is a reflection of self-reliant India: PM

SUSHANT KULKARNI
Kochi, September 2

COMMISSIONING THE COUNTRY'S first indigenously designed and built aircraft carrier into the Indian Navy, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Friday that INS Vikrant is "not just a warship" but "proof of hard work, ingenuity, influence and commitment of 21st century India", "a unique reflection of India becoming self-reliant".

In his address from the Cochin Shipyard in Kochi where a new ensign of the Indian Navy was also unveiled — it depicts the royal seal of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj and celebrates his naval prowess — Prime Minister Modi said a "burden of slavery" and a symbol of the country's colonial past has been done away with, befitting India's rich maritime heritage.

"Changing global dynamics have made the world multipolar. That is why it is critical to keep a futuristic

Naval officers on the flight deck during the commissioning ceremony of aircraft carrier INS Vikrant in Kochi on Friday viewpoint towards global dynamics. For example, the area of the Indo-Pacific and Indian Ocean Region were always neglected in the past. But they are now a strategic priority for our country. That is why we are working towards upgrading our naval capabilities and increasing the budget outlay for the Navy," he said.

"Vikrant is not just a warship, it's proof of hard work, ingenuity, influence and commitment of 21st century India. Vikrant has filled the country with fresh confidence. Until now, only developed countries were able to develop aircraft carriers. By entering this league today, India has taken a step towards becoming a developed country," he said.

The Prime Minister referred to "boundless female power" becoming "the lofty identity of the new India" and said, "Just as there are no boundaries for the waves, there will be no boundaries or restrictions for the daughters of India."

"As Vikrant is deployed for maritime security, many women will also be deployed on it.

"I have been told that there are around 600 women officers in the Navy and now all the branches have been opened for the entry of women. Like the Navy, other services are also inducting women in their combat arms," he said.

India to expedite product safety approvals; Apple and Samsung could benefit

MUNSIF VENGATTIL
New Delhi, September 2

INDIA WILL TRY out a strategy of parallel testing to speed up safety approvals for new electronic devices, an industry group told Reuters on Friday, a move that could boost device launch plans by the likes of Samsung and Apple.

The move comes as India scrambles to remove bottlenecks faced by businesses, with Prime Minister Narendra Modi bullish on an electronics hardware manufacturing industry his government targets to be worth $300 billion by 2026.

The plan to test different components of the devices simultaneously looks set to cut as much as five to eight weeks from the 16 to 21 now often needed to test and certify products ranging from wireless earbuds to smartphones.

"For industry, it is directly linked with ease of doing business; for consumers, this will result in faster access to the latest products," the group, MAIT, said in its statement.

Firms such as Apple, Samsung and Xiaomi are among its members, along with global and domestic firms operating in India's electronics, telecom and IT sector.

To trim the time required, the group added, the testing agency, the Bureau of Indian Standards, "has agreed to a pilot project where some identified electronics hardware products shall be undergoing parallel testing".

Executives say India's cumbersome testing process can take 16 weeks for a new Apple AirPods model, for example, as the charging case and its components must first secure clearance before the earbuds are assessed.

For a smartphone and its parts, the procedure could take an average of up to 21 weeks.

The pilot decision followed a closed-door meeting on Wednesday between officials of India's information technology ministry, BIS, MAIT and executives of firms such as Apple and Samsung, a source with direct knowledge of the matter said. —REUTERS

The man who turned around Reckitt Benckiser

LAXMAN NARASIMHAN,
CEO, RECKITT BENCKISER;
CEO-DESIGNATE, STARBUCKS

ANDREA FELSTED

LAXMAN NARASIMHAN CLEANED up Reckitt Benckiser Group but he's not staying around to admire the shine at the maker of Dettol and Durex.

After three years as chief executive officer, he's decided to step down on September 30. It's an unexpected move. On Thursday morning, the company said Narasimhan will return to the US for family reasons.

Later in the day came an announcement that he will become the new CEO of Starbucks.

Senior independent director and former British American Tobacco CEO Nicandro Durante will step into the role on an interim basis while Reckitt searches for a successor.

The departure is a blow to the consumer goods company.

Narasimhan inherited a mess from predecessor Rakesh Kapoor, under whom Reckitt had acquired Mead Johnson for $17 billion in 2017.

That stretched the company thin, leaving it vulnerable to a series of blunders, including a cyberattack.

Narasimhan quietly set about restructuring Reckitt, most notably selling off its Chinese infant formula business for $2.2 billion.

His efforts were beginning to pay off when his departure was announced.

Reckitt was one of the few consumer goods companies in the most recent earnings season to upgrade its outlook for both sales growth and profitability.

So, a new CEO will inherit a company with the heavy lifting mostly done.

In some ways, that will make the job trickier.

The new boss won't have the clear to-do list Narasimhan had when he arrived, allowing him to tick off problems as he solved them one-by-one. Instead, the new CEO will have to deliver on the strategy set out by Narasimhan — and not mess up.

One item outstanding is the $7 billion disposal of the rump of Mead Johnson, which sells brands, including the infant formula Enfamil.

But perhaps the biggest loose end is a possible merger with Haleon, the consumer-health business spun out of GSK in July.

Narasimhan's credibility, along with Reckitt's value, had risen just as Haleon's shares had shrunk, strengthening Reckitt's hand.

There is another M&A possibility: Johnson & Johnson is spinning off its consumer operation.

The new CEO will be able to make his or her mark by deciding where Reckitt fits in an industry rapidly reconfiguring itself.

The challenge is to make the right strategic calls and, if Reckitt does do a deal, expertly manage the integration process.

When it comes to Haleon, time may be on the new leader's side.

The litigation against makers of Zantac, including GSK, are scheduled to go to trial this year, with proceedings lasting into 2023.

Once these are finished, Haleon — and Reckitt — will have a better idea of the severity of any exposure to Zantac.

That timeframe could give the new CEO a chance to settle in and build credibility with investors.

Narasimhan was fond of saying that Reckitt was a good house in a great neighborhood, with the potential to be a great house again.

Now, someone else will be moving in, and must embark on the next phase of the makeover.

The great Indian student exodus

ANVITAI RAI
New Delhi, September 2

DATA FROM THE US State department showed that Indian students got twice as many visas than Chinese students this year, with the Indian numbers seeing an 89% increase. One would expect that this could be a case of "revenge studying" post-pandemic, not unlike the trend of "revenge travel" that has driven up tourist numbers worldwide and caused a huge demand on the travel sector. However, the seeds of this exodus were planted a while ago.

Reasons to pursue education abroad, apart from prestige and better prospects, are several, according to experts and university officials. Talking to FE, Vibha Kagzi, CEO, ReachIvy.com, a higher education consultancy firm, said that one interesting reason that emerged was the way the pandemic was handled in the country vis-à-vis abroad, and that left quite a chunk of the population jaded.

In Kagzi's words, "While people were struggling for vaccines here, abroad, students had easy access to vaccination camps set up on university campuses." Apart from the post-pandemic spurt in numbers, she also mentioned that a wider variety of courses was available, and in fact, students from the middle-income families were driving up the numbers, as opposed to the upper crust, as one would expect.

ReachIvy.com, she says, experienced a 65% increase in demand this year.

Amit Singh, founder, UniScholarz, a Mumbai-based consultancy firm, said that even pre-Covid, due to the Trump administration's policies, US universities became difficult to access, and subsequently, the interest shifted to the UK, Australia, and Canada. Both Kagzi and Singh concur that a lot of students also go abroad owing to the increasingly competitive nature of entrance exams. Singh says, "This group of students automatically becomes a feeder to the study abroad system."

Yet another reason that the consultants presented was the growing number of international schools in the country, which follow curriculum aligned with international standards. Kagzi stated, "Students are keener to enroll in foreign universities coming out of these schools as they feel they do not have much to do with the institutes that still follow Indian standards, and thus, parents are also keen to send their children abroad for undergraduate courses."

Both also pointed out a similar, but interesting insight — Indian students still majorly stick to the technical and finance courses like engineering and MBA, although they were also increasingly opting for up-and-coming fields in these areas, such as Data Science, IoT, and Cybersecurity.

Hasina's visit may open up fresh trade window

BANGLADESH PRIME MINISTER

Sheikh Hasina will visit India from September 5 to 8, her first visit in almost three years. She is scheduled to meet Prime Minister Narendra Modi and President Droupadi Murmu, among others. Banikankar Pattanayak dwells on the significance of the visit for bilateral ties.

KEY EXPORTS TO BANGLADESH

What's on agenda?

Water agreement, trade, grain supply and financial assistance may feature prominently in bilateral talks during the visit. Both the sides will likely ink an agreement on interim sharing of water of the Kushiya river. Hasina, accompanied by a business delegation, will also attend a CII event.

Why is the visit important from trade point of view?

Bangladesh, India's fourth-largest export destination, is staring at a foreign exchange crisis. Against this backdrop, the visit may prompt both the sides to explore the settlement of at least a part of bilateral trade in the rupees under a mechanism suggested by the RBI last month, said analysts. Both the countries will also seek to boost trade ties.

BILATERAL TRADE

Is an FTA in the offing?

While no such deal is expected anytime soon, both the countries want to further deepen their trade engagement. Bangladesh has already expressed interest to clinch an FTA with India in a year. Currently, Bangladesh enjoys duty-free access to the Indian market on most goods under the SAFTA (South Asia Free Trade Agreement). India is also part of the APTA, under which it had extended tariff concessions on 3,142 items to members, including Bangladesh, in 2018.

What is the strategic significance of the visit?

China has been cosy up to Bangladesh in recent years, especially after its clashes with India on the borders. Bangladesh finance minister AHM Mustafa Kamal has reportedly warned developing nations from taking loans from China through its Belt and Road Initiative (Dhaka joined the BRI in 2016). But given Beijing's growing economic clout, it would be hard for Dhaka to counter any negative influence without India's help.

What caused the forex problem in Bangladesh and will it seek India's help?

Bangladesh's foreign exchange reserves recently dropped below the $40-billion mark for the first time in two years. A massive trade deficit of $33 billion in 2021-22, caused by a spike in global commodity prices in the wake of the Ukraine war, hit the net-importing nation and stoked the forex problem. Dhaka has reportedly sought a $4.5-bn loan from the IMF to tackle the crisis. The visit will be a good opportunity for Bangladesh to explain its expectations from India in this juncture.
